DETAILED ACTION

The Amendments filed on April 6, 2009 has been received and entered.

Currently, Claims 11-12 are pending. Claims 11-12 are examined. Claims 1-10 are canceled.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 11 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

> (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 11-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jones (US 2002/0058075 A1) in view of Schwabe (US 5399348).

Jones teaches a group of obese women are treated with Ginkgo biloba extract [0177]. Losing weight involved the removal of unwanted fat stores [0117], which results in an increase in muscle to fat mass ratio. Women are warm-blooded animals.

However, it does not teach 20-30% weight flavone glycosides, 2.5-4.5% weight of ginkgolides A, B, C, and J, 2.0-4.0% weight bilobalide, less than 10 ppm alklyphenol, and less than 10% weight proanthocyanidins.

Schwabe teaches extract from Ginkgo biloba leaves of 20-30% weight flavone glycosides, 2.5-4.5% weight of ginkgolides A, B, C, and J, 2.0-4.0% weight bilobalide, less than 10 ppm alklyphenol compounds, and less than 10% weight proanthocyanidins (column 3, lines 3-4, 10-17). The pharmaceuticals contain substantially no danger of allergic reactions because of the removal of alkylphenol compounds (column 2, bottom right; column 3, lines 1-2).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the claimed concentrations 20-30% weight flavone glycosides, 2.5-4.5% weight of ginkgolides A, B, C, and J, 2.0-4.0% weight bilobalide, less than 10 ppm alklyphenol, and less than 10% weight proanthocyanidins because Schwabe teaches removing alkylphenols will minimize allergic reactions to ginkgo extract. One would have been motivated to make use the ingredient at concentrations taught by Schwabe for the expected benefit of promoting weight loss without developing allergies. Absent evidence to the contrary, there would have been a reasonable expectation of success in making the claimed invention from the combined teachings of the cited references.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 12 is rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 7138148 B2. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because Applicant's claim is drawn to a method of effecting weight-gain in warm-blood animal with 20-30% flavoneglycosides, 2.5-4.% ginkolides A, B, C, and J, 2-4% bilobalide, less than 10% proanthocynidines and less than 10 ppm alkylphenol, which are the same as that in claim 1 of US 7138148 B2. Sarcopenia is reduction of muscle with age; thus, promoting gain of muscle will treat sarcopenia.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
